This is a highly detailed and complex abstract collage by Robert Rauschenberg. The composition is a dense, layered assembly of various elements. At the top, there are dark, swirling forms and a bird-like shape in blue and brown. Below this, a large, light-colored bird, possibly a heron or egret, is depicted in profile. To the left, a small, colorful house or building is visible. In the center, a car is shown in a landscape setting. The bottom section features a figure in a blue suit and a figure in a yellow and black striped suit. The overall color palette is rich and varied, including blues, yellows, greens, browns, and pinks. The style is characteristic of Rauschenberg's work, which often combines naturalistic elements with abstract, geometric forms.
